

PULSES DAILY

URAD

FUNDAMENTALS

Urad prices remained steady to slightly weak today in most of the markets. With the start of harvest in Orissa the sentiments in Urad is turning bearish. During January to March, AP and Orissa are expected to come up with more than 2.5 lakh tonnes of Urad. So, from hereon the supply side is likely to remain easy till March and accordingly, the prices will remain on the softer side. There after the scenario in Urad will be determined by the bulk of duty free imports and import prices. The government might resort to imports in case of shortage of commodity to contain the prices within normal levels. So, forthcoming crop of Urad and imports are likely to keep the prices on the softer side in the coming time.

Futures Market Commentary

Urad futures at NCDEX opened weak at Rs. 2952 as compared to previous settlement and January contract tested a low of Rs. 2948 at the early hours of trade. Increased buying interest at the lower price levels has supported the futures and traded upwards thereafter to test a high of Rs. 3015 before finally closing the session at Rs 2980 a quintal. February contract traded in the range of Rs. 2741-2818 after initial weak opening and finally future settled at Rs. 2780.

Price Drivers

NAFED to import 5000MT Urad in March-April
Harvesting started in Orissa; AP crop is near maturity stage
Production is expected to cross 2.5 lt in AP and Orissa

Weather

Weather is suitable for maturing Urad in Orissa and AP.

CHANA

FUNDAMENTALS

Chana prices are coming down gradually at most of the trading centers. Early start of harvesting in Maharashtra has surprised stockists anticipating higher prices in January. Desi Chana has started leaving the field in some patches of Maharashtra one month in advance. Though, the arrivals of fresh Desi Chana are very small at the stage, onset of harvest is signaling for the bearish harvesting season. Crop is expected to be 60 lakh tonnes this year according to the trade sources. If this comes true, the prices will find somewhat more realistic levels on lower side in the harvesting season. Import scene is lack luster and no activity is being seen these days in Chana import. The prices are most likely to remain on the softer side as the harvesting season has started.

Futures Market Commentary

Chana futures at NCDEX traded mostly in red after initial firm opening. January futures of Chana started the session at Rs 2504 a quintal and then the prices moved in between Rs. 2446-2522. Finally future settled with losses of Rs 57 at Rs. 2447 a quintal. The volumes traded remained healthy at 85,490 MT. February contract traded in the range of Rs. 2232-2289 after initial firm opening at Rs 2284.

Price Drivers

Bullish

Depleting stocks
No fresh imports
Higher quotes by exporters

Bearish

Stockists offloading their stocks
Production this year expected 60 lt by trade sources
Harvesting of desi Chana started one month earlier in MH

Weather

Weather is congenial for the vegetative growth of the crop.

TECHNICALS

NCDEX -February Contract

Charts are displaying a continued downtrend in Chana; however, doji formation of candlesticks shows indecision at lower levels. Prices closed below 9-days EMA, which is favoring bears. MACD is showing increasing bearish sentiments. Stochastic is falling in oversold region, which warrants some caution on the part of bears. The prices are most likely to remain weak.

Support / Resistances:

Contr act	S1	S2	PCP	R1	R2
Feb	2243	2212	2274	2308	2330

Trade Recommendation:

Sell NCDEX Chana Feb contract below 2288 with target of 2255 Put SL at 2310.

TUR

FUNDAMENTALS

Tur prices remained steady to slightly bearish at most of the spot markets today. Arrivals are falling in Karnataka, whereas it is slowly picking up in MP and MH. Demand for fresh Tur is good from the millers at the stage, which is supporting the prices. As the production of Tur this year is expected to fall in MH and Karnataka, demand in these states are good. Whereas, production is expected to be normal in MP and thus stockists there are waiting for the prices to come down a bit. As the harvesting is gathering momentum in most of the states, it is likely to pressure the prices despite good demand from the millers. The prices will start picking up only after February onwards depending upon the import situation.

Futures Market Commentary

Tur Futures at NCDEX retreated today after earlier gains. January futures of Tur started the session firm at Rs 1881 and on increased buying interest at current level tested a high of Rs. 1917 and finally settled in the positive territory with some gains. February contract traded in the range of Rs. 1955-2002 after initial weak opening at Rs 1955.

Price Drivers

Bullish

Good demand from millers

Production is expected to dip this year

Import prices are above the parity levels

Bearish

Arrivals increasing in MH and MP

Weather

Weather is congenial for Tur harvest in major producing states.

TECHNICALS

NCDEX -February Contract

Tur is showing tentativeness at higher levels. The prices managed to close above EMAs, which shows firmness in the market sentiments. However, long upper shadow of candlestick shows tentativeness at higher levels. MACD is showing decrease in bearish momentum. Stochastic is also positive in neutral territory. The prices might make some more attempts to test higher levels.

OTHERS

Moong

With the start of harvesting season in other pulses, Moong markets are also witnessing easing sentiments these days. Moong prices remained steady at different domestic markets. Good quality Burmese Anneshwar Moong is being quoted at Rs 3000 per ton. Imports are not lucrative at the stage. The prices are likely to remain on the softer side during the harvesting season of pulses, however, due to poor stocks and imports, downside is also limited.

Field Peas

Field peas prices are getting support from the good demand at the stage, however they are expected to come down in the coming time with the progress of harvest in Peas. Further, as the harvesting has started in Chana in some states, the bearish sentiments in Chana can spill over to peas also. However, as the momentum has not picked up in Chana harvesting, peas prices has some scope on the higher side. Acreage of the crop has dropped this year, which is also supporting higher prices as guided by imported counterpart.

Masoor

Masoor markets are witnessing slight weakness in conjunction with the other pulses. As export has still not opened by the government, the prices are not finding much support from the domestic demand. Acreage of Masoor this year is seen 7.95 lakh hectare as compared to 7.0 lakh hectares in the previous season. The market is keenly eyeing the decision of CCP on export of Masoor. If CCP allows export of masoor the prices might increase to some extent until then the prices are likely to remain steady to slightly weak.
