URAD

SPOT MARKET

Urad continues to witness subdued sentiments at most of the markets. The prices dipped further in some of the major markets. The prices are finding no reason to bounce on. Cautious stockists and millers after recent government action on stock limits are not taking much interest in the commodity at the stage. Banks are also pulling their hands off the commodity financing in such a scenario. Weather is likely to be uncongenial for Urad in Orissa in next 2-3 days as it is likely to rain in some patches of the state. Harvesting, which is in the last stage in the state might be interrupted if it rains heavily. However, weather is suitable for the maturing crop in AP. The Urad prices sharply slipped down to Rs 100 in Vijaywada on account of increasing arrivals. Scattered rains So, the prices might ease with the onset of harvest in AP in early March.

CHANA

SPOT MARKET

Chana witnesses not much action today at different markets. The prices hovered in small range at most of the trading centers. Indore, one of the major trading centers, saw steady prices on steady arrivals. However, the traders expect the prices to ease in coming time with the progress of harvest. Lack of demand from stockists continue to pressure the prices, however, miller gave supportive hand to the prices ahead of Holi. According to the local sources, Chana crop in Rajasthan is in good condition, thanks to the recent rains in the state. Traders are expecting the production to cross 10 lakh tonnes this year against 7-8 lakh tonnes normally. It is again expected to pour in the state, and as the crop is still in pod filling stage, the same is not feared to hamper its prospects. The Chana prices likely to remain softer side in the coming time with the increasing arrivals.

Futures Market Commentary

Chana futures at NCDEX traded mostly upwards. March futures of Chana started the session weak at Rs. 2100 then the price tested an intraday lows of Rs 2082 at the early hours of trade. However, increased buying interest at this level pushed the prices highs of Rs 2141. Finally closed the session higher by 2 % at Rs. 2139. The volumes traded remained healthy at 111,770 tonnes and open interest slightly decreased.

Price Drivers

Harvesting in MP gathering momentum
Harvesting in full swing in Maharashtra
Govt. allow the export of Kabuli Chana
Stock limits turn Stockists cautious

Weather

Scattered rain expected in Rajasthan and UP would be beneficial for Chana crop there. However, expected scattered rains in next 2-3 days in MP would interfere with harvesting process.

TUR

SPOT MARKET

Stockists of Tur seem have disappeared from the market all of a sudden. Recent government action probably has done the trick. The prices were soaring recently despite healthy supply pressure, as the stockists were buying aggressively in anticipation of heavy premium in off-season on supply shortage. However, they fly by night, once the government became strict on stock limits. With government looking determined to hammer down the prices of essential commodities, even highly bullish stockists are also now hesitating to stock the commodity. The arrivals are increasing in Maharashtra, whereas in Karnataka and AP it is witnessing gradual fall. In Jalna, Akola and Gulbarga market the prices decreased by Rs 25 to 75. The prices are not likely to ease much especially looking at the lower production expected this year, at the same time cautious demand from stockists would not let the prices surge much.

OTHERS MOONG

Moong prices remained steady in major markets. Lack of buying activity was seen in different of markets of Maharashtra. Lower stock of the commodity and slightly improved demand from millers at this stage is supporting the commodity to some extent. Stockists were releasing their stocks slowly into the markets. In International markets, Burmese Anneshwar Moong is being quoted at $610 per ton, whereas Pokako Moong is selling at $690 a ton. The prices are likely to remain range bound during the harvesting season of pulses, however, due to poor stocks and imports, downside is also limited.
