REFINED SOY OIL

SPOT MARKET:

Refined soy oil traded slightly firm in most of markets on steady demand. Concerns of damage to mustard crop on poor weather conditions in Rajasthan supported the soy oil prices there. Further, firmness in soymeal and soybean also gave some supportive hand to the soy oil prices. Meanwhile, Madhya Pradesh Government removed Value Added Tax (VAT) on oilseeds in State budget for 2007/08, which capped the gains to some extent. CIF prices for March shipment of crude soy oil increased marginally to $674/tonne Thursday against Wednesday's $673/tonne. However, the prices are likely to remain on the softer side in coming days in sync with the prospective easing sentiments in Mustard in harvesting season.

FUTURES MARKET:

Today, the most active March contracts of refined soy oil futures settled weak at NCDEX. March contract opened at Rs 444.65/10kg down Rs. 1.1 to previous closing level. Recent rallies were short lived and profit taking pushed soy oil futures down. Bearishness at BMD crude palm oil futures well amplified and March contract witnessed speculative selling and March contract ended Rs. 0.35 down at Rs. 443.2/10kg against previous closing at Rs. 443.55/10kg.

PRICE DRIVERS:

1. Crude soy oil CIF prices declined
