

SPOT MARKET

Urad witnessed mixed sentiments across the markets on Monday. The prices inched higher in Akola market, whereas some easing in prices was witnessed in Delhi and Indore. Healthy imports by government this year and some good supplies from the current Kharif crop improved the supply situation in the commodity. However, some damage to the crop in Karnataka and Gujarat have hurt the production to some extent. However, relatively better crop during last two seasons has boosted the pipelines and there is no immediate crunch on the supply side of the commodity. Meanwhile, PEC invited quotations to sell 548 tonnes Urad to improve the supply status in the market. But, prices are expected to remain range bound due to better demand and deterioration in quality of the commodity in the market.

■ CHANA

SPOT MARKET

Chana prices remained steady to slightly firm at most of the markets on Monday supported by some festive demand for the commodity. The arrivals remained steady in Delhi market at 40 motors. The overall supplies remains normal with the normal production during last season, however the prices inched marginally higher in some markets on account of slightly improved demand. Meanwhile, sowing in Karnataka, which is already half way through, is facing some problems due to untimely rains recently. The acreage is likely to be affected in the region as delay is sowing due to improper soil moisture conditions might induce farmers to divert towards other crop like Jowar. Late sowing usually hampers the crop yield. Further, sowing in Rajasthan might also get delayed due to the poor soil moisture conditions (dry) in the state. Being the second largest Chana producing state, any fall in its acreage will send negative signal for the forthcoming crop, however it is too early to make any conclusions. In a short run the prices might see some firmness as millers are still covering for the ongoing festive demand.

Futures Market Commentary

Chana futures at NCDEX traded in a tight range on Monday. The most active November contract opened weak at Rs.2392 per quintal and then traded in a tight range of Rs 2392-2419 per quintal before closing the session at Rs 24205. MCX November Chana also traded in a tight range of Rs 2416-2427 per quintal and settled at Rs.2420 per quintal.

TUR

SPOT MARKET

Tur prices remained mostly stady to slightly firm on Monday with the only fall recorded in Latur. The sentiments continue to remain firm in Tur market with the reports of pest attck on Tur crop in Karnataka. Though, the healthy imports are supporting the supplies, any dramatic fall in domestic Tur prices might keep the prices on the firmer side during the season as exporters keep watching the domestic supply conditions and quotes accordingly. The arrivals from the fresh crop will start to come by mid- November to December. Meanwhile, PEC invited bids to sell 695 tonnes of Tur. Thus, prices are expected to remain range bound with positive bias due to lack of supply in the market.

MOONG

A mixed sentiment was observed in Moong spot market on Monday due to market indecision. Prices decreased by Rs25 in Mumbai and Kanpur due to slightly sluggish demand. But, overall the arrivals from the fresh crops are in the declining trend and harvesting in most of the producing belts is near completion, which would support the prices in the coming time. Meanwhile, PEC invited bids to sell 954 tonnes of Moong to improve the arrivals in the market. Thus, prices are expected to remain range bound due to volatility in the market.
