

■ GUAR SEED

■ 17th Dec, 2007

SPOT MARKETS:

Guar prices remained steady to slightly weak on the last trading day of the week in the absence of fresh inputs to the market. The arrivals of 45000 to 50000 bags were seen in the market. Sluggish demand from stockists, millers and exporters is keeping the prices on the softer side. Guar seed production in the country is expected to remain steady, as increased production in northern Rajasthan will compensate for decline in production in western and central Rajasthan. Production in Haryana is expected to remain very close to last year despite increased acreage due lower yield. But as the quality of seeds was affected due to rains during maturity period in northern Rajasthan, availability of quality seeds is relatively poor this year. Though, stronger rupee and sluggish exports to European countries is currently keeping the prices on the softer side, lower production in Pakistan suggests that the prices will eventually find some good support from healthy export demand in the coming months. The prices are expected to remain range bound in short term.

FUTURES MARKETS (NCDEX & MCX):

Guar Seed and Guar Gum futures at NCDEX traded range bound with bearish bias. The most active January Guar Seed contract opened firm at Rs.1651 per quintal and then the contract traded in the rang of Rs 1643-1654, before finally closing at Rs 1646 per quintal. Guar Gum futures also traded in similar fashion. NCDEX January guar gum futures traded in the range Rs 4121-4150 per quintal and closed the session at Rs 4141 per quintal.

PRICE DRIVERS:

- Strong rupee hurting the margins of exporters
- Subdued export demand of guar gum
- Expectation of lower production in Pakistan
- Good demand from stockists
- Shortage of quality seeds in the market

WEATHER IMPACT:

Weather conditions in western Rajasthan has improved and is conducive for harvest and post harvest of guar seed.

TECHNICALS:

The prices continue to hold levels below short and medium term EMA's, which supports bears. MACD is running flat in negative region. RSI and Stochastic Oscillator are in oversold region, which warrants caution to bears.

OUTLOOK: The prices are likely to see some recovery.
