

Wheat Domestic Fundamentals:

- Steady to slightly firm trend witnessed in the market on buying support at lower level. Sources says that wheat prices will not sustain at higher level as supply from federal govt.'s stock will work as a cap in weeks ahead.
- Govt. may consider private trade's demand to allow export .However, export is not possible as parity is negative. Supply crunch in international market is getting back up once again and market may consolidate.

Wheat International Fundamental:

- U.S. wheat futures closed higher amid broad-based strength in corn and other commodities.
- Optimism about the economy helped lift equities and commodities, and weighed on the dollar.
- Worries about the hard red spring crop, particularly in North Dakota, led the way.

Outlook: Domestic:

- Higher arrivals even during lean season, hefty stocks and lower demand are weighing on wheat market fundamentals. However, govt may consider export through private channel and it will lay some support to wheat market.
