

Maize Market Fundamentals:

- Maize prices have declined in various key spot markets on Tuesday as improved supply weigh on the market sentiments.
- Around 25% crop of AP has been harvested till date as reported.
- Around 228 rakes of maize has been moved out from Karnataka market itself in this season as reported.
- Government announce steep hike in Railway Freight by 25% from today onwards as reported.
- India is going to produce 5.5 million tons maize in Rabi season 2011-12 which is around 8% higher compared to maize produced last year.
- As far as crop progress is concerned, maize has been planted in around 3.65 lac hectares in Bihar which is the major contributor of maize production in Rabi season. This year Rabi maize planting is 7.4% higher compared to last year. Meanwhile, harvesting of the crop has been started in Bihar and around 20% of the crop has already being harvested at present.
- Meanwhile, a rake business has been reported from Haveri district to Yamunanagar at FOR 1350. At present, only domestic buyers are active in the market at present. It is noticeable that around 30 rakes have already been moved from Haveri in this season.
- Recently, 1 rake has been delivered to Ahmadabad from Gadak at FOR 1327, which is 60 km far from Koppal.

International Market Commentary:

- International corn prices have surged on Monday and still hovering above the previous close as cheaper US corn over wheat urge South Korea to purchase around 126,000 tons of corn that support the prices. It is noticeable that corn prices are trading at discount over wheat which will encourage the corn prices in the coming days.
- Brazil has exported around 279,200 tons of Corn in Feb 2012 which is approx 50% less compared to last year corn export by Brazil at same period.

Outlook: Maize prices are moving range bound with weak tone as sellers are offloading maize stocks at higher levels which increase the supply pressure in the market. Prices are likely to trade range bound in the coming days as expected.
