

Onion Fundamentals:

- Onion prices in Mumbai declined from Rs 460/Qtl on Saturday to Rs 450/Qtl on Monday backed by higher arrivals. Arrivals improved significantly to 9550 quintal on Monday from 1100 quintals on Saturday.
- Meanwhile, onion prices at Bangalore declined by Rs 99/Qtl on Monday to Rs 451 a quintal due to higher arrivals. Arrivals increased from 17,831 quintals on Saturday to 22,431 quintals on Monday.
- Demand for onion from Bangalore, Hyderabad and Chennai was stable at these price levels. Demand for dark red variety of onion (Agrifound Dark Red) will improve during coming 15 days and exporters are keeping a close eye on its arrivals which is likely to begin from first week of April.
- Central government might consider the demand of a few states asking to lower MEP of onions (current MEP $125/ton) to boost export. Any policy shift to a lower MEP could lend support to the onion prices moving forward as exports would gather pace.
- Export demand for onions are seen stable to firm as exporters are buying onions from spot markets to cater to the growing demand of Dubai, Kuwait, UAE and adjoining Gulf nations. At the same time demand from Singapore, Malaysia, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh also improved during recent days.
- Higher export demand and improvement in arrivals shall keep Onion prices range bound and will continue to attract domestic and export buyers on any price dips.

Outlook:

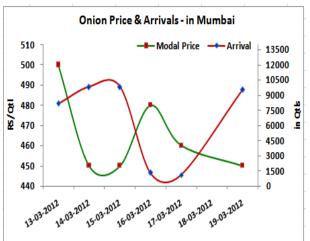

Onion prices are expected to stay range bound around these levels. However we expect onion prices to gain during first week of April backed by exporters buying better variety of onions.
