

Pulses Domestic Fundamentals:

- Limited trading activity witnessed in most of the domestic markets. Meanwhile several domestic markets and all future markets remained closed due to "Ambedkar Jayanti".
- Indian Govt. asked for a report from Consumer Affairs Department, on seven commodities including chana in ten days to decide on Ban on Future trading. Indian Govt. also look towards providing benefits to both farmers and hedgers by better alignment of future and physical markets.

International Fundamentals

- International chana markets remained firm during the week on strong demand for Indian origin chana.
- Limited trading activity witnessed in Canadian lentil markets on thin end-user buying interest and farmer's selling interest. During this week, large and medium sized green lentils witnessed weak tone while small sized remained flat.
- In Canada, yellow pea prices in spot market remained on historically higher side. The average prices quoted at USD 394 for bulk product in Vancouver.
- Estimated exports for 2011-12 would fall to 2.1 MT compared to 3.01 MT in 2010-11 on dull demand from South Asian countries. Meanwhile, record amount of exports to China of dry pea is also expected.
- However, high import demand from Middle East, South America, Africa and EU-27 would result into surge in lentils exports from Canada.

Outlook: sideways movement is expected due to high arrivals and sporadic demand for new crop.

NCDEX remained closed on 14th April, 2012 on "Ambedkar Jayanti".
