News: According to the International Cotton Advisory Committee, Supply and Demand estimate report, India's cotton production is estimated at 6.1 million tonnes for the 2020-21 season. Punjab Agriculture Department has advised farmers to sow the cotton crop till 31st May 2021. The sowing of cotton crop has registered a significant increase in South Punjab due to the incentives given to the farmers by the Punjab Agriculture Department. The Punjab Agriculture Department has issued a schedule for sowing of registered cotton varieties and advised the growers to complete the sowing of registered BT cotton varieties between 1st April 2021 and 31st May 2021.

Cotton sowing has been delayed in Punjab for the coming 2021-22 season. According to the Punjab Agriculture Department, sowing is been done on only 63,220 hectares till 10th May 2021, whereas the target is to cover 3.25 lakh hectares area and till now as less than 20 percent of the crop has been sown. The ideal time for sowing cotton is considered to be up to 15th May'2021. The late start of sowing is due to the unavailability of canal water for many days in the initial stage and also the late harvest of wheat crops in some areas.

The projection has been made despite the USDA pegging the area under cotton lower at 129 lakh hectares compared with 130 lakh hectares. Sowing of cotton is scheduled to begin shortly in states such as Punjab and Haryana, While in other states it will start next month.
