

Domestic market summary*Major Market Highlights:

India's cotton crop is in good condition and overall cotton quality has also improved. Cotton daily arrivals is around 90-1,10,000 bales per day. Cotton arrivals are lower as farmers are holding stock in anticipation of higher prices in near term. Cottonseed prices are remained week and are further likely to go down due to limited demand in the market. Cottonseed oilcake demand is also lower. Raw cotton prices are fluctuating, overall trend is bearish but prices are not going down due to lower arrivals in the market.

Ginning factories are running but less than 50% capacity due to lack of arrivals and disparity. Spinning mills are buying raw cotton but in limited quantities. Cotton yarn prices are stable to firm. Trade is very slow due to the huge disparity to spinners and ginneries. Export is very limited. Very small demand in raw cotton and yarn from abroad.

Domestic Market Scenario:

- Cotton exports are getting affected despite of higher production in India. In anticipation of an increase in prices in the near term, cotton farmers are holding their stock. Indian traders so far in the new season have contracted about 70,000 bales for exports, significantly lower than the 500,000 bales contracted during the same period the previous season. Bangladesh, Vietnam and China are the major buyers of Indian Cotton. Further, Exports are unlikely to gain momentum unless local prices fall or global prices move higher.
- Farmers in India are not willing to sell cotton at lower price so in supply crunch market gained and touched a high at Rs. 69,000 per candy. Cotton arrivals are lower in the market and Indian basis are higher.
- Cotton Association of India (CAI) has estimated its October estimate for the 2022-23 season. CAI has retained its cotton crop estimate at 344 lakh bales. The Association has attributed the increase in production majorly from Gujarat, Punjab, and Haryana. Agriwatch has estimated cotton production during 2022-23 season at 348.16 lakh bales.

- Majorly, CAI has reduced its export estimate for the 2022-23 season. The exports for the 2022-23 season are estimated at 30 lakh bales and are less by 13 lakh bales than the exports estimate of 43.00 lakh bales for the 2021-22 season. Exports have been revised down due to weak demand as Indian cotton prices have again increased in the domestic market. Also, domestic consumption has revised to 300 lakh bales as against 320 lakh bales estimated earlier. The previous year's consumption estimate was around 318 lakh bales.

International Market Scenario

Australian government has signed a free trade agreement with India to boost garment exports. As per the Apparel Export Promotion Council, the duty-free access to Australia under the trade pact will bring domestic exporters at par with global competitors and make local product competitive.

According to the U.S. Crop progress report, as of 21st Nov, 2022. Overall 79 percent of the U.S Cotton Crop is harvested as compared to previous week 71 percent. During the previous season cotton harvested was around 74 percent.

According to the USDA, World Agriculture Supply Demand Estimate Report, U.S. cotton production is expected to be higher by 1.5%, at 14.0 million bales, as a decrease in the Southwest is more than offset by increases elsewhere. Domestic mill use and exports are unchanged, and ending stocks are 200,000 bales higher at 3.0 million bales. The 2022-23 season average price for upland cotton is reduced 5 cents this month to 85 cents per pound.

The 2022-23 World cotton production is expected to be lower by 1.6 million bales, led by a 700,000-bale cut in Pakistan's crop as gin arrivals there signal the extent of damage from earlier precipitation and flooding. Unusually high precipitation is also driving a 500,000-bale reduction in Australia's 2022-23 crop, and in part accounts for a 630,000-bale decline in West Africa's expected output. Global cotton consumption is projected around 650,000 bales lower, with a 300,000-bale cut to mill use in both Pakistan and Bangladesh.

World trade is 400,000 bales lower, with import reductions for Bangladesh and China only partly offset by Pakistan's increase; West African exporters account for most of the decline in projected exports. At 87.3 million bales, world-ending stocks in 2022-23 are projected 600,000 bales lower than in October, but 1.6 million higher than the year before.

However, cotton prices eased this week as cotton's future slipped due to macro dynamic change.

Cotton yarn prices in the Ludhiana market remained steady as mills were not inclined to reduce prices to lure buyers. In Ludhiana, 30 count cotton combed yarn was sold at Rs.285-295 per kg. 20 and 25 count combed yarn were traded at Rs.275-285 per kg and Rs.280-290 per kg respectively.
