

Domestic Market Highlights:

- As per the latest sources, Export price of 5% Broken Parboiled Indian Rice were reported at $360-$366 per Tonne as compared to prices of $364-$370 per Tonne during past week due to less demand from the African buyers.
- As per the sources, there is a lag in the availability of land in states like West Bengal, Jharkhand, Bihar, and Chhattisgarh due to the ongoing deficiency in rains that has resulted in area sown by paddy by 13%. According to the Ministry of Agriculture, as of August 5, rice cultivation area was 2.743 million hectares (LH) against 314.14 LH in the same period last year.
- According to sources, India is likely to contemplate restricting rice exports to ensure sufficient availability in the domestic market and prevent price spikes. The government is concerned about rising inflation as the inflation rate has reached 7.79%, the highest in eight years. India has exported non-basmati rice worth US$6.115 billion in 2022. India's non-basmati rice exports increased by 109% from $2.93 billion in 2013-14 to $6.12 billion in 2021-22, according to government data.
- As some sources suggests, there are apprehensions among the market participants that the Rice production for the coming 2022-23 season may fall by at least 10 – 15 million tonnes from last year's record production. Also, there are concerns about the Rice stocks with Food Corporation of India (FCI) which is expected to be at 10-year's low by April 2023. Given the scenario may force government to impose some restrictions on Rice exports like imposition of MEP (Minimum Export Price), Export Duty, Quantitative restriction etc. to curtail the excess flow of Rice through exports.

- According to the latest data of FCI as of 31st July 22, the Centre has procured 878.96 lakh tonne (LMT) of paddy in the ongoing 2021-22 Marketing year so far at the Minimum Support Price (MSP). Till now, about 130.25 lakh farmers have been benefited with the MSP value.
- According to GOI's latest data India marked a decline in Rice area coverage by 17% till 15th July 22 as compared to same period last year. Till July 29th, Rice has been sown in 231.59 lakh Ha. of area compared to 267.05 lakh Ha, down by approximately 13% compared same period last year. Maximum area cover was in the state of U.P with area cover of around 46.58 lakh ha against 53.26 lakh ha during past year for same time period. The reason attributed for lag in paddy sowing is highly deficit rains over West Bengal, Jharkhand, Bihar, Chhattisgarh and Uttar Pradesh. As per the sources there is a suspicion regarding decline in the production output of Rice during upcoming season by around 1.5 million tonnes in upcoming season as the result of deficient and delayed rainfall.
