Agriwatch gives the 1st Supply and demand estimates for MY-2015-16 in the 1st week of June. Rice production for MY 2015-16 is likely to be up from 102.5 million tonnes to 104 million tonnes due to favorable weather at sowing stage in various growing states in north east and southern regions. The reason for increasing production is some area in U.P under sugarcane is expected to shift towards paddy.

At Export front, we expect that in MY 2015-16, rice export is likely to be down by around 13% from last year export of 9.8 million tonnes due to lower carry over stock. However demand for Indian rice in overseas markets and price of competitive nations also twist the export front in coming years.

Domestic consumption is likely to be up by 0.15% from last year’s consumption of 99.35 million tonnes to 99.5million tonnes in 2015-16.

IGC Rice Balance sheet Highlights:

Global rice production in 2015/16 is projected almost unchanged m/m, at a new record; the outlook is tentative, especially given uncertainty about the impact of El Niño on crops in Asia. Owing to reduced opening stocks, supplies are expected to tighten and, with uptake to expand further, world end-season inventories are forecast to drop to a six-year low. Major exporters' stocks are seen declining by about one-quarter y/y, to 20.9m t, the smallest since 2007/08. World trade is expected to remain high on firm demand from Asia and Africa.

Assuming bigger crops in key Asian producers, global rice output in 2015/16 is anticipated to reach a new peak. However, with supplies set to contract, world carryovers are projected to drop by 7% y/y, to a six-year low. As China's inventories are set to edge up, much of the fall is likely due to a steep decline in leading exporters. China's imports could expand further in 2016 and, together with another year of above-average shipments to traditional buyers in Asia and Africa, trade is seen only fractionally lower y/y, at close to 42m t. Given tightening availabilities, India's exports are forecast to fall, but Thailand's shipments are placed at a fresh record.
