Domestic Fundamentals:

• Edible oil prices witnessed mixed tone at various markets on Saturday.

• Palm oil- Palm oil prices are expected to be underpinned by expectation of slow fall in palm oil end stocks in Malaysia, rise in production of palm oil in Malaysia, slow down of palm oil exports from Malaysia.

Palm oil end stocks are expected to fall slowly in Malaysia in coming months on rise in production of palm oil and slowdown of exports of palm oil.

Production of palm oil is expected to rise on seasonal uptrend of production. Production will rise in second quarter after record production in first quarter.

Exports from Malaysia are expected to slow on imposition of export duty by Malaysia. Exports fell 1.8 percent in Malaysia in first 20 days of April. Fall in exports was due to weak exports to India. India was the swing importer in March.

Ringgit is expected to depreciate due to rise in Dollar Index due to faster hike in interest rate by FED. Weak ringgit will support palm oil prcies.

Competitive oils like CBOT soy oil and RBD palmolein DALIAN are expected to fall. CBOT is falling due to higher stocks of soy oil in the US and DALIAN will fall on higher crushing of soybean in China due to healthy margins to processors which has led to surplus supply of RBD palmolein and underpin its prices.

Rise in crude oil prices are expected to support palm oil prcies.

 Soy oil- Soy oil stocks rose in US in March as reported by NOPA on higher production of soy oil due to higher crush of soybean is expected to underpin soy oil prices. USDA too increased soy oil end stocks of soy oil in April estimate. USDA too increased soy oil end stocks estimate in its April estimate.

Planting of soybean is yet to start in US and area under soybean could rise as wheat planting is expected to be hampered by weather disturbance which may shift wheat area towards soybean against USDA estimate.

There is uncertainty in market on US and China trade dispute while China has not given a date when they will impose import duty on US soybean.

USDA is expected to release new estimates of oilseeds supply and demand in May review.

Rise in crude oil prices are expected to support soy oil prices.

- According to cargo surveyor Societe Generale de Surveillance (SGS), Malaysia's April 1-20 palm oil exports fell 1.8 percent to 909,388 tons compared to 926,185 tons in corresponding period last month.
