

Domestic Fundamentals:

Edible oil basket traded with sideways sentiments at various markets. Mustard oil and Sunflower oil market trade sideways. While, Soy oil and Palm oil market prices traded up and Groundnut oil prices traded down for the day.

Soybean oil

- In the Domestic market, the Soy oil market rose slightly following competing oils.
- Weak international soy oil fundamental is weighing on domestic market as well.
- Higher Brazil's soybean crop is pressuring the international soybean oil and seed market.

Palm oil

- Domestic prices traded up as it's the cheapest oil in the market.
- Indonesia will suspend some palm oil export permits to secure domestic supply amid rising cooking oil prices ahead of Islamic festivals, as quoted by senior cabinet minister Luhut Pandjaitan said on his official Instagram account. Under the "Domestic Market Obligation" (DMO), Indonesia allows export volumes of six-times what the companies have sold at home, down from 8 times previously.
- Malaysia's lower palm oil production along with tight palm oil exports from Indonesia is likely to underpin the prices in coming days.
- Trade participants are expecting Malaysia's end-January palm oil stock levels to fall further nearer to 2.18 million mt lower than previous month. According to Industry surveys, Malaysia's palm oil end stock is likely to fall month-on- to 2.18 million mt. The surveys also pegged production downwards by 14.1% lower to 1.39 million mt. Decline in production is mainly attributed to torrential rains and floodings. Exports is also anticipated to slump by 21.7% to 1.15 MMT due to slow export demand.
- Export demand is likely to pick up in February ahead of Ramadan and Ed-ul-Fitr holidays.

Mustard oil

- Mustard oil prices traded up for the day at various market as supply side is down amid lower crushing due to disparity.
- Continuous arrivals of new crop are expected to start from 2nd week of February.
- AgriWatch is expecting 10-12% losses in mustard crop in Rajasthan due to cold wave and production to remain in the range of 42-45 LT same as last year.

Outlook: Edible oil basket is expected to trade sideways for the week.
